The 2,000 feet of new hose ordered through Mr. Schwartz's Sons for the fire department is expected to arrive in the city in a week or ten days.

Maine Central baggage masters have been notified that baby carriages will not be accepted for transportation only under the rules governing the carriage of baggage.

Postmaster Isaac T. Wadsworth of Milford, died Thursday from injuries received by being thrown from his carriage while driving Tuesday night. He leaves three children.

Mr. Pullen and several members of his orchestra went to Danforth yesterday to furnish music for the graduating exercises of the High school of that town to have occurred last evening.

With last night's performance of "A Temperance Town," the season at the Opera House came to a close. The season of 36-37 will open on August 12th with "The Dazzler," as the attraction.

A fire in the woods north of Sardinia street, Carleton, Sunday afternoon, was prevented from doing damage by the efforts of a large number of people who turned out and fought fire for several hours.

The funeral of Albert O. Williams was held yesterday afternoon from his late residence on Forest avenue. Rev. E. F. Dyer officiated and Mr. Asa Morton sang. Mr. Albert Williams had charge of the funeral arrangements.

The members of Christian Endeavor societies are looking forward with great interest to the "Boston Rally" to be held at the First Parish church next Tuesday evening. The address will be followed by an informal reception.

George F. Turner's buildings, on the Rock Terrace Isle near Carleton, would have been destroyed by a forest fire Sunday, if it had not been for the fact that he had not turned out and worked heroically all day to save the property.

The probate court, which is now in session in this city, will close its session today. Meetings have already been held in August and Portland.

Dr. Frank H. Hines, who has been in this city for some time, is now in the city of Old Town, where he is engaged in the lumber business.

The Bangor & Arctostictum railroad will sell tickets at the price of one fare at any station on its line, June 23, 25, 26, and 27, to return on July 15, for the annual conference of the Christian churches of Maine which will be held in Portland the last week of June.

J. D. Glenn has received "The Nautilus," by E. J. R. King and W. C. W. King. It is a story of the West and East. He also has "Gold's Finest School," which is a collection of stories and poems.

Chief of Police L. W. Gilman gives notice that he will accept the Mayor's pension on or before the 15th of July, 1907, and after the 15th of July, 1907, he will be permitted to be operated as "penalty," or other such much as he desires for gambling or selling goods by chance will be prosecuted as provided by law. It is evident that the slot must go.

Many friends of Captain and Mrs. John L. Lee will extend their sympathy upon the loss of their son, Warren, who died Thursday after a week's illness of pneumonia, at the age of 18. He was a young man of great ability. His death will be a source of sorrow to many. The funeral will take place from the family residence, Forest Hill, this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

A number of the Bangor interurbans yesterday received back pay on the extra charges which give them about $300 each and they are naturally well pleased.

The Fort Point Hotel will open to the public about June 15 and a successful season is anticipated there. Great improvements and repairs have been made and the hotel, grounds and drives are now in better condition than for many years. The Justices of the Supreme Court, members of the Penobscot Bar and invited guests will make an excursion to Fort Point week after next.

HOTEL PROPRIETORS.

It is expected that the Bangor Hotel will give its first concert of the season next week at Centre Park.

Dr. T. L. Coe, president of the Bangor Gas Company, yesterday presented the department with $50 for the relief fund in very effectual manner.

The eleventh annual meeting of the Hotel Proprietors' Association was held in the city yesterday afternoon at the Windsor and there was a large representation of the different Maine hotels.

Owing to a very general request Mrs. Etta Morse Hudders, the lecturer on food preparation and use, who has been speaking to ladies during the past week, will give a lecture to men some day next week. The lecture will not be exclusively for men, but will be directed toward some topics relating to food and digestion.

A WILD RUNAWAY. Considerable excitement on Main Street Friday Evening.

Last evening a Bangor gentleman was driving on Columbia street, his carriage and a dump cart collided and he was thrown out over the dasher on the ground, striking upon his face.

He was taken into a house nearby and attended by a physician. It was found that he had fortunately escaped with some abrasions and bruises, which will doubtless soon be recovered from.

The horse left the carriage and dashed down Main street, where he continued his run.

At the foot of Hammond street he took the crosswalk in front of Lyford & Woodward's store. Miss Lydia Furey was struck by the animal and knocked down upon the sidewalk but luckily escaped being injured.

The runaway fell down but quickly gathered himself and ran through Central street to the Grand Central stables, where he belonged.

INTER-COLLEGIATE MEET.

Athletes of Maine State College, Bangor, Bates and Bowdoin, will contest at Waterville today.

An event in which the entire State is interested will occur at Waterville today, it being the first day of the Maine Inter-Collegiate Athletic Association, and preparations have been made for a most successful affair.

The four Maine colleges, Maine State College, Bangor, Bates and Bowdoin, will send teams to the meet, the members of which are the pick of the athletes of the various colleges. It is very probable that a number of State records will be broken, as the training has been more thorough than ever before.

The games will begin at 2 P. M. and will take all of the afternoon as there is a large field of entries. Mr. Ralph P. Fairbanks, of Bangor, will act as marshal.

His guests will be Waterville this morning. Some of the officials of the Maine Inter-Collegiate Athletic Association will act as today's contestants.

Among the entries of Bangor boys are J. L. Fairbanks and George Steison, of Bowdoin; W. L. Hubbard and C. H. Whitman, of Colby, and George Bass, of Maine State College. They will participate in the dashes and some of the larger runs.

This forenoon an exhibition game will be played on the Colby grounds by Colby and Bowdoin.

AMUSEMENTS. "A Temperance Town." The concluding presentation of "A Temperance Town" was given at the Opera House last night before another good sized audience, the members of which found much to laugh and to think at the comical scenes of the play.

At the Norumbega. The Tucker Company presented last evening a powerful military drama, "In the Trenches," to a large and enthusiastic audience. The scene of the play is laid in Russia during the Crimean war, and is full of stirring and sensational situations.

Also at the nation today, when, as it is a piece that will prove great attraction to the young generation, it is overhauling house may be expected.

Sousa's Band. Sousa's famous concert band will give a concert at City Hall to-morrow evening at 8.15 o'clock and the sale of tickets is a large audience. As a matter of accommodation to those who cannot secure their tickets to-day the ticket office at the City Hall will be open from 2 to 6 P. M. to-morrow.

Sousa's Band numbers fifty people. Its leader is the renowned John Philip Sousa, for fourteen years band master of the United States Marine Band at Washington, distinguished alike for his ability as a leader and his masterful work as a composer. His marches, "The Washington Post," "The Director," "The Liberty Bell," "Manhattan Beach" and numerous others are probably played by bands, pianos and band organs and whistled on the streets more extensively than any compositions of their time. Sousa's music nets him a handsome income every year and he plays it himself continually. His music will be heard as encores at his concert to-morrow evening with other compositions of equal popularity and beauty.

Base Ball Notes. Our new pitcher, Mudge, did good work yesterday at New Bedford. It looks as though he were all right. Conner seemed to have no off day yesterday. Harry Miller must have flunked O'Brien yesterday for its effect on the crowd, to sort of renege himself in their good opinion.

Opinion for New Bedford has been roasting Miller on his springing day in and day out. Tom O'Brien doesn't protest unless there is something to be gained and we should say on general principles that his flue yesterday was unjust.

Sullivan and McCaughey pitchers have been released by the Bangor management and Drinkwater, who pitched in the Bangor-Pawtucket game on Wednesday, has been signed. Manager Sharrett has written home that he has found a pitcher named Mudge, whom he found in New York. He gave him a trial yesterday in the Bangor-New Bedford game and Mudge did good work. Johnson, who pitched for Brockton in a game of last season, wants to join the Bangors.

The mysterious Hynes, who was secured some time ago by the Bangor management, in Quincy, Ill., but who has dropped out of sight since then, has at last been located in the wilds of Pawtucket, whether he went to join the Bangors, or if the walking is good he will probably encounter with the team by the time it reaches home again.

Bobby Moore did "tasty" work yesterday.

Remains Identified. BROCKTON, Mass., June 7. The body found in Black Pond, near Bangor, yesterday, has been positively identified as that of Nils Paulson, of Brockton. Previous to the arrest of Peter Wagner of the charge of killing Paulson the body had not been identified by any of the relatives of the deceased. This morning, however, positive identification of the body was made by Mrs. Johnson, of Myrtle street in this city, a sister of the dead man.

CARGO SHIFTED. It was the Cause of Disaster to the Steamer Colman.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7. The official investigation into the Colman disaster was begun this afternoon by the United States inspectors of harbor and boats. By the testimony of George C. Richardson and Third Mate Hansen, it is probable the cargo shifted below.

The body of the deceased was found to the starboard and righted and the next time she went over she would not shift on the first roll and the weight prevented her from righting.

There will be some good racing at the Orono trotting park June 21, 22, 23, being offered to persons. See advertisement for particulars.

Porter-Levenseller. A very pretty private wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Levenseller, of Holden, on Thursday evening the 6th instant, the contracting parties being Mr. Sanford L. Porter, of this city, formerly of Oldtown, and Miss Flora B. Levenseller, daughter of Mr. A. Levenseller, of Holden. Mr. A. F. Chase, D.D., principal of the East Maine Conference Seminary, Bangor, performed the ceremony in a most felicitous manner, in the presence of relatives and a few friends. Mr. Porter is a local representative of the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company, being president of the Grace church Epworth League, in this city. The bride, who is highly esteemed by all her acquaintances, was graduated from Bowdoin Seminary in the class of '01. Mr. Wyndell Smith was best man and the matron of honor was Miss Levenseller and Miss Corrie. Mr. and Mrs. Porter have taken house No. 10 on Western street in this city and will be at home here June 30th. Many friends attended the ceremony and the wedding was a most successful one.
